

“Work with one reliable source to free me from dealing with multiple sources of data.”

iAggregate lets you quickly, safely deliver data—improving efficiency and reducing costs.

You may be a pharmacy management group utilizing multiple data systems. Or a pharmacy chain overburdened by too many data requests, requiring you to develop too many data feeds. Maybe a non-pharmaceutical company that runs a data-driven business, but would rather spend more time running your business and less time dealing with aggregation headaches.

What all of you need is iAggregate--a data aggregation solution customized to your specific business needs. Look at the advantages:

- Confidently outsource all your aggregation needs and save resources (the financial kind and the people kind).
- InfoWerks can securely move your data as needed, utilizing military-grade security protocols.
- Our security policies are maintained to always exceed ever-changing HIPAA regulations.
- We are annually SOC-1 audited, so our policies and procedures meet the industry's highest regulatory standards.
- You can universally deliver your shared data anytime, from anywhere.

InfoWerks has vast experience at managing any platform—and every permutation of software and hardware. So free yourself from the time- and cost-consuming demands of data aggregation. Let iAggregate handle it...so you don't have to.
